City Administrator Report to Mayor & City Council

March 15, 2013, Edition No. 81

REPORT:

1. ATE: The City received $30,465 from GATSO for ATE fines this past week. Net of the GATSO fee, City revenue is $19,800. The updated summary is attached.
2. Parks & Rec: The Golf Course is open as of March 30th for the season. Carts will not be allowed at this point due to soft ground conditions. Kent Stein Park opened March 30th for the season as well. The schedules are available online and are busy as ever. The Soccer Complex was open as well for the season on Monday, April 1st.
3. Housing: Please see the attached memo regarding public housing smoke free administrative guidelines that staff is moving forward with based primarily on HUD encouragement, the forthcoming blue zones initiative, health issues, and cleanup costs.
4. Blue Zones: Please see the following regarding the upcoming Blue Zones meeting on April 11th. We are planning on an in-depth session for May to discuss the City and BZ expectations.

Blue Zones Meeting: You have been recognized as a key leader within our community. As such, we'd like to invite you to join us on Thursday, April 11 at the Muscatine History and Industry Center for a workshop with walkability and livability expert, Dan Burden. Dan Burden is an internationally recognized authority on livable and sustainable communities, healthy streets, traffic calming, and bicycle and pedestrian programs. Over the past 35 years, he's helped more than 3,000 communities become more livable, walkable, and sustainable.

Check out the video from Dan Burden's visit to the first four demonstration communities on YouTube.

The agenda for the workshop will be as follows:

10:00 – 11:30 AM: Walking "Audit" of Muscatine

The walking audit will provide an opportunity to gather community input and insight to shape a list of livability improvements specifically for our community.

11:45 – 1:30 PM: A Roundtable Discussion (Lunch Provided)

During the discussion, we will have the opportunity to ask Dan Burden questions, increase technical knowledge, build support for initiatives, and share best practices.

"I remember Muscatine for its sunsets. I have never seen any on either side of the ocean that equaled them" — Mark Twain

1:45 – 2:45 PM: Action Planning Session & 100 Day Challenge
The action planning session will help set us up for success and allow us to determine actionable next steps on recommendations and learnings from the day.

We'd love for you to join us on Thursday, April 11 at 10:00 AM at the Muscatine History and Industry Center to learn from the expert and begin seeing our community from a new angle.

WALKABILITY AND LIVABILITY WORKSHOP WITH DAN BURDEN

Thursday, April 11

10:00 AM – 2:45 PM

Muscatine History and Industry Center
117 West Second St.
Muscatine, IA 52761

We appreciate your time and dedication to improving the well-being of Muscatine. We know the community will reap the benefits of your efforts.

5. MPW: Attached please find a copy of MPW's Spring flushing schedule for your information.
6. ATE/Sioux City: Please see the attached letter issued by IDOT to Sioux City. IDOT appears to be taking a new direction given that ATE legislation failed in the legislature. I understand that Sioux City will be acting on the letter at an upcoming council meeting.

MEMORANDUM

To: Dick Yerington, Housing Administrator
CC: Gregg Mandsager, City Administrator
From: Courtney Ferreira, Housing Specialist, Clark House
Date: 4/8/2013
Re: Smoking Guidelines Update

In response to HUD recommendations to designate Public Housing properties as “No Smoking”, the MMHA is exploring the possibility of implementing new guidelines regarding smoking at Sunset Park and the Clark House. I, along with Chad Yocom, have gathered research regarding the hazards of smoking, 2nd hand smoke, and 3rd hand smoke and the effects it may have on our residents and facilities. We have determined that the cost to rehab apartments inhabited by smokers may cost several thousands of dollars more than renovations done to non smoking apartments. In light of this research and information we deemed it necessary to develop a steering committee to explore restricting our current smoking guidelines at Sunset Park and Clark House.

In January 2013 a steering committee was developed to address our current smoking guidelines. The committee was comprised of appointed members from the Resident Advisory Board, Sunset Park resident Association, and the Clark House Resident Council. Two members from each group were appointed to the steering committee. The committee met for the first time on January 29, 2103. The committee reviewed the current smoking guidelines for both Sunset Park and Clark House. Information packets containing facts on smoking and the damages caused to residents and facilities were distributed to the committee. A sample survey for residents was presented to the steering committee. Changes to the survey were made and finalized for distribution. Surveys were distributed to all residents of Sunset Park and Clark House. Residents were asked to return the surveys for the committee’s consideration. The steering committee met again on February 12, 2013. The committee reviewed the results of submitted surveys and discussed proposed changes to the current smoking guidelines. The committee made recommendations for where smoking should be allowed and an acceptable time frame for implementation. The steering committee met March 6, 2013 to begin developing new smoking guidelines to present to Sunset Park and Clark House residents. The committee set dates for open forums to allow residents to give further input on the smoking guidelines. A letter was sent to residents notifying them of the open forum dates along with a copy of the proposed smoking guidelines. On March 21, 2013 the first forum was held at the Clark House with a moderate size turn out. On March 22, 2013 the second forum was held at Sunset Park. Two residents turned out to voice their opinions. The steering committee met on March 27, 2013 to consider the input heard at the forums. After some discussion the steering committee developed their final recommendation for smoking guidelines at Sunset Park and Clark House. Arrangements are being made with New Horizons to offer assistance and support for those wishing to quit smoking.

It is the recommendation of the steering committee that the current smoking guidelines be changed at Sunset Park and Clark House. Smoking would no longer be allowed in the resident's units with the exception of electronic cigarettes. Smoking would be allowed in designated outside areas only. At the Clark House designated smoking areas would be established on the 5th floor balcony and in the front and rear of the facility. At Sunset Park smoking would be allowed out front or behind units. No smoking outside areas would be designated near and in the playground and afterschool program building. The steering committee recommends that these smoking guidelines be enforced beginning April 1, 2013 for new residents and July 1, 2013 for current tenants.

5a: Historic Preservation Planning

The Muscatine Historic Preservation Commission continued to support efforts in 2012 to recognize the major civil rights and other contributions in the 19th century of Alexander G. Clark. The Alexander Clark Heritage District was established by the city in 2010; and the MHPC continued to pursue additional recognition of this significant city resident. An effort that was started in 2011 to establish Clark's Double Rental House at 203 W. Third (70-00203) as a National Historic Landmark (NHL) and then later modified – at the request of the National Park Service – to create a revised National Register of Historic Places nomination for the property continued.

The MHPC launched a reconnaissance survey in two potential historic districts in Muscatine in 2012, despite not being selected for a Historic Resources Development Project (HRDP) grant. Funding for the two surveys came from local grants and other support.

The Muscatine (County) Historic Preservation Commission and the Muscatine (City) Historic Preservation Commission continued to coordinate activities through joint members of the two commissions. The two boards were both present during informational discussions by the Muscatine Board of Supervisors concerning the future of two county-owned buildings located within the city limits. The supervisors were discussing the future needs of the Old Jail (70-00246) and the Muscatine County New Jail and Sheriff's Office (70-00969), possible uses and potential for demolition. The two groups will continue to monitor the situation.

The city continued to contact the commission throughout 2012 whenever a demolition permit was issued. The commission would then review records and attempt to document as much of the building as possible before demolition occurred.

The commission continued joint discussions and planning with the Friends of Historic Preservation, which was created by the MHPC in 2007 to assist with fundraising and other activities related to historic preservation in the community.

The City of Muscatine also continued to involve the commission in two efforts that began in 2011. The commission provided assistance in updating the community's comprehensive plan, especially for areas and activities that would involve a significant number of historic properties. The second major involvement was the development of a historic property tax abatement program. City staff presented draft ideas of a potential program to the city council in late 2012. Discussions are expected to continue into 2013.

The commission also requested the city council to amend the city's historic preservation ordinance in 2012 to reduce the commission membership from seven to five and extend the original three-year terms to five-year terms. City staff and commission members felt these changes would improve recruitment of commission members. The city council approved the changes in late 2012.

5b: Technical Assistance Provided

There were no organized or specific technical assistance programs provided to the public in 2012. However, individual commission members and staff responded on a regular basis to questions and concerns directed specifically to them.

The commission did participate in several tours conducted of historic buildings. The tours were intended to familiarize commissioners to various historic property styles and conditions; and also provide them with an opportunity to provide information to the property owners, managers and/or realtors on proper historic preservation techniques and preservation opportunities.

The commission also continued to work with local historian Kent Sissel with his effort to recognize Muscatine's Alexander Clark, arguably Iowa's most important 19th-century, African-American civil rights leader. The main effort continued to be identifying Clark's house (owned by Sissel) on West Third as a National Historic Landmark (NHL). A previously approved Historic Resource Development Project (REAP) grant was amended in 2011 so a revised National Register of Historic Places nomination could be completed for the property. The commission also provided assistance to local planners interested in identifying community sites, including the Alexander Clark House, as having possible links to the Underground Railroad. Much of this effort is being coordinated through the Network to Freedom program. A film on Clark that was released in 2012 also received encouragement and support from the commission.

The commission also agreed to participate in a city effort to develop a local property tax abatement program for Muscatine's historic districts and individual properties listed on the National Register. The city council identified the development of such a program as a top/high priority objective in 2011 and presented a draft plan to the city council in late 2012.

5c: Educational Programming Provided

The commission supported programs on Muscatine's connections to the Underground Railroad and a film produced on the life of Alexander Clark. The MHPC also coordinated the funding and installation of nearly 20 historic district signs throughout the community. Those signs were placed in 2012.

The commission continued to review city demolition and permitting ordinances.

The MHPC and the Friends of Historic Preservation continued planning in 2012 to conduct joint activities and programs, especially relating to historic preservation month activities.

OFFICIAL MINUTES
MUSCATINE HISTORIC PRESERVATION COMMISSION
JANUARY 18, 2012

The Muscatine Historic Preservation Commission (MHPC) met in regular session on Wednesday, January 18, 2012, at 5:15 p.m. in the lower level conference room at Muscatine City Hall. Members present included Devin Pettit, Jane Reischauer, Gina Chesling and Jim Schmidt. Others present included Michael Maharry and Jim Rudisill. Following the roll, the commission reviewed the consent agenda, including the distributed agenda and the minutes of the regular December 21, 2011 meeting. Pettit requested an additional agenda item to discuss the Mississippi Corridor project. Following the review, Pettit moved to approve the consent agenda with agenda change; Schmidt seconded; motion passed, all ayes.

The first agenda item was Certified Local Government (CLG) activities; and the first of those activities was a discussion on the status of the MHPC's planned reconnaissance surveys of four potential historic districts. At last month's meeting, the MHPC agreed to delay implementing the surveys until after it submits an additional funding request to the State Historical Society of Iowa (SHSI) in May.

Rudisill said he had notified the Community Foundation of Greater Muscatine and the Roy J. Carver Charitable Trust (and the Friends of Muscatine Historic Preservation), which have all approved pledges/grants of support for the project, of the delay. He said none of the funders had responded. Commission members agreed the lack of any response likely indicated the funders did not object to the delay and would not withdraw their original support.

There was a brief discussion on whether or not to conduct additional funding solicitation between now and May, since any SHSI grant could be less than the amount needed to complete all four reconnaissance surveys. Rudisill asked if property owner contacts might be helpful. Pettit said he was inclined to keep that funding option open for future historic district nominations.

In a related discussion, Maharry questioned why the four areas identified for reconnaissance surveys had been selected; and how consultant Rebecca McCarley had settled on her priorities. He suggested Iowa Avenue, or a portion of that street, should be considered a prime candidate. Commission members agreed Iowa Avenue was a strong survey candidate and indicated they were unsure why McCarley had not identified it as a higher priority. There was some speculation involving unified development or some combination of significance and feasibility (low-lying fruit), but there was no clear answer.

The next CLG discussion item was the status of the comprehensive plan update.

Rudisill said he had not been advised that city planner Andrew Fangman was ready to develop the historic preservation component of the plan. Pettit suggested if MHPC members had any recommendations for the plan to contact Fangman directly. He also reported the Muscatine Planning and Zoning Commission intended to begin tackling rezoning once the comp plan update was completed.

The commission next discussed the property tax abatement program draft distributed in November. At the discussion of the draft in December, Maharry had suggested a two-tier abatement be developed. One tier would provide owners who follow the Secretary of Interior's Standards break; while the second would apply to those owners who only want to rehabilitate their property without worrying about the standards. Maharry termed it a fork in the road.

Tier 1 work would restore, rehabilitate or replace historic features in the most historically sensitive manner. Tier 2 would not be as sensitive, but even under Tier 2, the program would still require no demolition of historic features in order to be eligible for the abatement. Maharry said such activities as roof and foundation repairs would like fit into Tier 1 status regardless of any standards because those elements are hidden from view or have other issues that have already affected their historic integrity. He said the key goals for the program should be to enhance the historic nature of the property and rehabilitate deteriorated historic properties.

Schmidt said the commission would need to develop guidelines to follow when approving the abatements, especially if they did not follow the Secretary's standards.

Maharry also suggested an example showing the benefits of an abatement be developed to provide a better understanding of how the program would operate. Rudisill said he would develop a generic example of a possible savings for a property owner using the abatement program and a Tier 2 abatement percentage table.

A discussion on joint activities involving the Muscatine (City) and Muscatine (County) Historic Preservation Commissions were then discussed. Reischauer reported the county commission was working on establishing the county as a CLG. She said the plan is to have the designation by the spring of 2013.

Rudisill next reported on the 2011 Annual Report. He said much of the report was completed, but he continued to need the assistance of the commission to identify work completed in 2011 on historic properties either within a recognized national historic district or individually listed on the National Register. Commissioners indicated they would review the building permits list and list work they knew to have been completed on target properties. Rudisill said the deadline for submitting the report is in February.

The next agenda items were discussions involving historic properties and districts. The first of these items was an update on the revised nomination of the Alexander Clark House to the National Register of Historic Places. Rudisill said Kent Sissel had reported he is back in touch with the National Park Service (NPS) after losing contact with several of the NPS staff for the past several months.

Sissel had also reported Paul Finkelman would be in Japan for the next several weeks, but would be continuing to work on the Network to Freedom and the National Register nominations.

The remaining district discussion involved signage.

Reischauer reported no recent new activity on that issue. She will get updated designs and costs to Gary Carlson of HON. Carlson had earlier agreed to cover the costs of the signs.

Reischauer will also develop a proposal on sign size and other details and bring it back to the MHPC for review before going to the city traffic committee for approval to post the signs.

Several miscellaneous reports were then given to the board.

Pettit reported the Downtown Action Alliance (DAA) is scheduled to meet next month to discuss future activities. He said Friends are the technical member of the DAA, but he did want the commission to be aware of the meeting and objectives.

Rudisill also asked if anyone had received the email from Paula Mohr describing two meetings on historic preservation efforts and local economic activity. None of the members recalled receiving the email and Rudisill said he would forward it to everyone.

Maharry then presented a report from the Friends of Muscatine Historic Preservation. He said a sheriff's sale was scheduled for the Sawyer-Rehwaldt House at 609 W. Second on January 31, 2012.

Maharry also reported the Friends are seeking tax help to file a 2011 tax return. The organization must file a tax return to receive the $30,400 historic tax credit donated to Friends by Tom and Cindy Kautz. Maharry said the organization had not been able to locate anyone yet. Reischauer suggested Maharry contact local tax attorney Jim Nepple, a former member of the Muscatine (city) Historic Preservation Commission and a current member of the county HPC.

Discussions and planning also need to begin for May Preservation Month activities, Maharry said. He also reported a local realtor had told him house showings were up, so that could point to increase market activity. He said his own property at 417 W. Third had recently been approved for a variance by the Muscatine Planning & Zoning Commission. With the variance, a prospective owner would be able to operate a bed and breakfast business on the property. Maharry said the prospective buyer must still sell a house in Colorado before purchasing the Muscatine property.

Maharry also reported he had recently been asked to serve on a state committee that is researching the development of a comprehensive plan for historic preservation.

In a final discussion item, Pettit notified the commission of an upcoming city council agenda item concerning the Mississippi Corridor Study. Pettit said the study must be amended to include development of a 4(f) statement. The statement is necessary for the former Puritan Ice/Testrake property on Green/Grandview. Proposed development at the Hershey Avenue/Green Street Intersection (Carver Corners) is expected to impact the buildings, which have been determined eligible for the National Register of Historic Places. A 4(f) statement is required to examine potential alternatives to the development to determine if there is any feasible option to removing the buildings.

The meeting then adjourned at approximately 6:50 p.m.

The next regular meeting of the commission is scheduled for Wednesday,

February 15, 2012 at 5:15 p.m. in the Muscatine City Hall lower level conference room.

OFFICIAL MINUTES
MUSCATINE HISTORIC PRESERVATION COMMISSION
MARCH 21, 2012

The Muscatine Historic Preservation Commission (MHPC) met in regular session on Wednesday, March 21, 2012, at 5:20 p.m. in the lower level conference room at Muscatine City Hall. Members present included Devin Pettit, Jane Reischauer, Julie Wolf and Jim Schmidt. Others present included Michael Maharry and Steven Boka. Anna Mack arrived at 5:40 p.m.

Following the roll, the commission reviewed the consent agenda, including the distributed agenda and the minutes of the regular January 18, 2011 meeting. Pettit moved to approve the minutes as submitted; Schmidt seconded; motion passed, all ayes.

The Commission reviewed and discussed the comprehensive plan update process, 2012 Preservation Month activities and 2012 Preservation Award candidates.

Reischauer reported the historic district signs and locations have been approved by the city traffic committee and by the city council on March 15.

The commission discussed the Historic Resource Development Program (HRDP) process and schedule for submission.

Michael Maharry reported on the recent county discussion concerning the historic jail. Maharry said the Muscatine Board of Supervisors will not sell the building, but did acknowledge the use of tax credits for improvements to the building was a possibility. There was also discussion regarding the use of tax credit for the Muscatine Court House improvements.

The commission discussed the current commission make-up and Boka suggested that Jim Rudisill update the contact information for distribution at the next meeting.

Boka suggested the commission may want to take advantage of the city website by creating a link to commission events, current activities, awards, projects and even an area dedicated to "questions & answers".

The meeting then adjourned at approximately 6:45 p.m.

The next regular meeting of the commission is scheduled for Wednesday, April 18, 2012 at 5:15 p.m. in the Muscatine City Hall lower level conference room.

OFFICIAL MINUTES
MUSCATINE HISTORIC PRESERVATION COMMISSION
MAY 16, 2012

The Muscatine Historic Preservation Commission (MHPC) met in regular session on Wednesday, May 16, 2012, at 5:15 p.m. in the city council chambers at Muscatine City Hall. Members present included Devin Pettit, Jane Reischauer, Julie Wolf, Jim Schmidt and Anna Mack. Others present included Michael Maharry and Jim Rudisill.

Following the roll, the commission reviewed the consent agenda, including the distributed agenda and the minutes of the regular March 21, 2011 meeting. There had not been an April meeting because a quorum was not present. Pettit moved to approve the minutes as submitted; Mack seconded; motion passed, all ayes.

The first order of business under the CLG section of the meeting was a discussion of the proposed tax abatement program for historic buildings. Reischauer recalled from earlier meetings when Steve Boka discussed the program with the commission that he favored removing commercial buildings and only applying the program to owner-occupied buildings.

Rudisill also pointed out the current proposal included provisions for review of the application and the property site by the commission. He questioned whether the review requirement would be a potential handicap for a future commission because of the potential time commitment.

Wolf said she suspected that not many applications would actually be filed, which would reduce the amount of time commissioners actually spent on the reviews.

There was also some confusion over which final draft had actually been last distributed. Pettit provided a copy that he said Rudisill had distributed earlier, but it differed from a copy that Rudisill had in the abatement folder.

Rudisill said he would review his electronic files and forward the latest copy of the tax abatement program to commission members.

The commission next discussed the proposed comprehensive plan status.

Pettit reported he understood reviews of the various plan sections would begin in June or July.

Reischauer said she had learned some communities were turning to downzoning in an effort to preserve historic areas. She said that effort could help to preserve historic homes and prevent them from converting to multi-family housing.

Rudisill also reported he had provided city planner Andrew Fangman with a copy of the 2006 West Hill Historic District nomination recommendations, which Fangman had indicated would help form the foundation of the plan's historic preservation sections.

The status of the Historic Preservation Month activities was the next discussion item. Pettit moved to approve the list of awards presented by the Friends of Historic Preservation; Schmidt seconded; motion passed, all ayes. Commission members said they were not sure if additional activities were planned by Friends for the rest of the month. Rudisill also reported Mayor Hopkins had issued a proclamation declaring May as National Historic Preservation Month in Muscatine.

The next CLG discussion item was MHPC membership.

Rudisill reported Ramiro Vazquez had contacted him and intended to submit his resignation from the MHPC. Rudisill said he had not yet received any official resignation letter from Vazquez.

Rudisill also said Jo Ann Carlson and Jim Schmidt's terms on the commission would expire on June 30, 2012. Carlson is completing her second term and is not eligible to be reappointed to another term. Schmidt is completing his first term and is eligible for reappointment. Schmidt said he would be willing to serve again, which means if Vazquez resigns only two vacancies will be open.

Mack said her husband had expressed an interest in serving on the commission and Rudisill said he would forward a city appointment form to her.

The final CLG discussion issue was the city's website and possible uses of it for linking historic preservation topics. Reischauer explained Boka had brought this issue up at the March meeting, suggesting there could be a wide range of sites linked to the city's webpage. He had also pointed out the website could be a useful tool for promoting local city historic preservation programming.

Commissioners were encouraged to review the city's website and forward suggestions for possible links or information ideas to Rudisill.

The commission next discussed several historic district or property issues. The first of these was an update on the commission's two Historic Resources Development Program (HRDP) grant programs or applications.

Rudisill reported he had not received any communications from Kent Sissel concerning the status of the 2011 HRDP project to update the National Register of Historic District nomination for the Alexander Clark House. Rudisill suggested the project had developed a number of twists and turns that could mean further delays in completing the nomination. He said he would wait to hear from Sissel and keep the commission advised.

The second HRDP project to be discussed was the 2012 application to fund four reconnaissance surveys in Muscatine. Rudisill reported the application had been submitted. A response is expected sometime in June. Commission members requested Rudisill to email them a copy of the application.

The next agenda item was a discussion on signage.

Rudisill reported the order for the additional signs had been faxed to Iowa Prison Industries, but he had not heard anything since then.

The commission next received reports from commission members and visitors.

Reischauer reported she had received a report from the State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO) on a study completed for the Mississippi River Corridor project involving the area around the Carver Corners (Green & Hershey). Reischauer had sent the report to Rudisill and requested he forward it to all commissioners.

Maharry reported on his recent historic preservation conference trip. He met individuals there whose counties have implemented the state's mandatory historic property tax abatement program for counties. He pointed out that program does require adhering to the Secretary of Interior Standards to qualify for the abatement, a provision that is included in the city's proposed tax abatement proposal, but can be waived under certain conditions. He said he would email a copy of the Linn County Supervisors priority identification listings, a requirement of the state law, to Rudisill.

Maharry also reported learning of a preservation program involving historic preservationist Bob Yapp. According to Maharry, conference sponsors said they had sent a local resident to travel with Yapp and receive training on preservation of historic windows. The trainee had then returned home and was providing local workshops on what he had learned.

Maharry thought the idea was good and suggested it might be worthwhile to offer a scholarship to maintain this training conduit. He also said the training could expand to other critical historic features.

The keynote speaker at the conference, Donavan Rypkema, was also outstanding and provided an effect and precise explanation of the economic benefits of historic preservation, Maharry said. A YouTube presentation of Rypkema is available on the Internet.

The meeting then adjourned at approximately 6:05 p.m.

The next regular meeting of the commission is scheduled for Wednesday, June 20, 2012 at 5:15 p.m. in the Muscatine City Hall lower level conference room.

OFFICIAL MINUTES
MUSCATINE HISTORIC PRESERVATION COMMISSION
JUNE 20, 2012

The Muscatine Historic Preservation Commission (MHPC) met in regular session on Wednesday, June 20, 2012, at 5:45 p.m. in the city council chambers at Muscatine City Hall. Members present included Devin Pettit, Jane Reischauer, Julie Wolf and Anna Mack. Others present included Michael Maharry and Jim Rudisill. Following the roll, the commission reviewed the consent agenda, including the distributed agenda and the minutes of the regular May 16, 2012 meeting. Mack moved to approve the minutes as submitted; Pettit seconded; motion passed, all ayes.

The commission's first issue was a discussion of the proposed tax abatement program for historic buildings under the Certified Local Government category. Rudisill updated the council on a recent meeting he held with Muscatine County Assessor Dale McCrea, Muscatine Auditor Leslie Soule and deputy auditor Betty Wamback on the proposed abatement program.

McCrea reported he had reviewed the proposed program and pointed out the county did not have any capabilities of separating just the city taxes from any abatement. Both he and Soule said the computer program used by the county would abate all the taxes on any approved property under the program.

An alternative to abating all the taxes would be to initiate a rebate program that would require the city to pay back to the approved property owners the portion of city taxes they would be eligible to receive under the abatement program.

Rudisill said he had talked to Muscatine Community Development Director Steve Boka about that option, but Boka did not favor it. Commissioners said they also favored keeping the tax abatement policy intact, pointing out there likely would not be a large number of applicants.

The commission also discussed the May 15 deadline to submit pre-applications to the city. The applications do not need to be forwarded to the assessor until February 1. Collecting applications in May would mean a nearly 18-month gap between the application submittals and actual tax payment. Commission members agreed an initial December 31 date was more feasible.

There was also discussion on the abatement program language concerning adherence to the Secretary of Interior standards. Maharry had earlier provided the language used by counties currently participating in the mandatory state historic property tax abatement program. Maharry said after reading the language in the city's abatement program, he felt it contained the same requirement. There was also agreement among the commission members that guidelines would need to be developed to assist future commissions with determining eligibility and other parts of the program.

After additional discussion, Rudisill was directed to update the latest version of the document and provide it to commission members for final review. A vote on the program and recommendation to the city council will then be added to the commission's July meeting agenda.

The commission next discussed the proposed comprehensive plan status.

Muscatine City Planner Andrew Fangman has started holding town meetings in the various planning districts to explain the comprehensive planning process, answer questions and recruit volunteers wishing to participate in committees and other groups.

Meetings that could directly impact the Downtown Commercial Historic District and West Hill Historic Districts will be held soon; and commissioners agreed those meetings would offer opportunities to support historic preservation efforts in the comp plan.

The final CLG-related agenda item concerned commission membership.

Rudisill reported Dan Mack had submitted his application, which would be part of the city council's June 21 agenda. He also reminded the commission of Ramiro Vazquez's intent to resign from the commission, but said he had not received any official resignation letter. Rudisill had attempted to call Vazquez prior to the meeting, but had to leave a message.

Historic district or property issues were then discussed.

Rudisill said he and Kent Sissel had not communicated on the Alexander Clark-HRDP grant for some time. He will wait until either Sissel contacts him with information on the report's status; or the State Historical Society of Iowa (SHSI) requests an update.

The commission next discussed the status of the historic district signs.

Rudisill reported he did not know if the city's public works department had started to install the signs, but all the signs had been delivered. He also reported supervisor Randy Howell had reported getting the posts ready and utilities located.

Rudisill also was unsure on the status of the HNI reimbursement. He said he would talk with Muscatine Finance Director Nancy Lueck and ask if the bill has been paid and reimbursed.

The final historic district/property discussion was the status of the city's 2013 Historic Resources and Development Program (HRDP) application. Rudisill said there had not been any release of awards by the SHSI as of the meeting. Pettit said a review of the 2012 award notification showed they had been announced shortly after the June MHPC meeting, so he expected this year's awards to be announced within a day or two. Rudisill said he would continue to monitor the SHSI website and report any notification to the commission.

Commission members agreed to delay any discussion on possible survey options, until they learn if the city's application has received any funding.

The commission next received reports from commission members and visitors.

Maharry reported the Friends of Muscatine Historic Preservation, Inc. will have its five year anniversary this fall. He said some type of celebration will be held to help the group reset, re-advertise and re-promote itself.

Wolf also announced the Colver Street Broom Factory had recently been sold.

The meeting then adjourned at approximately 6:25 p.m.

The next regular meeting of the commission is scheduled for Wednesday, July 18, 2012 at 5:15 p.m. in the Muscatine City Hall lower level conference room.

OFFICIAL MINUTES
MUSCATINE HISTORIC PRESERVATION COMMISSION
JULY 18, 2012

The Muscatine Historic Preservation Commission (MHPC) met in regular session on Wednesday, July 18, 2012, at 5:45 p.m. in the city council chambers at Muscatine City Hall. Members present included Devin Pettit, Jane Reischauer, Julie Wolf and Jim Schmidt. Others present included Jim Rudisill. Following the roll, the commission reviewed the consent agenda, including the distributed agenda and the minutes of the regular June 20, 2012 meeting. Pettit moved to approve the minutes as submitted; Wolf seconded; motion passed, all ayes.

The first discussion issue under the Certified Local Government category was on the proposed property tax abatement program for historic buildings. Rudisill reported on a new idea presented by Muscatine City Administrator Gregg Mandsager that would replace the 10-year, 80-20%, graduated tax abatement table for historic buildings with one that would offer a three-year, 100% abatement schedule. Rudisill said Mandsager felt more people might apply if they could see a quicker turnaround on their renovation costs.

Mandsager had also suggested the three-year, 100% schedule could apply to new homes in both historic districts and other development areas as a way to increase construction on in-fill lots throughout the community.

Commission members indicated some uncertainty over Mandsager's new construction proposal within historic districts and requested Rudisill to ask Mandsager to attend the next meeting to provide more background on his suggestion.

Generally the consensus of the commission was to support the three-year, 100% abatement schedule, although Schmidt did suggest allowing residents to pick which schedule they wished to follow. However, several questions were raised over the possibility of providing an abatement for new construction within a historic district.

Both Reischauer and Schmidt wondered what stake the commission would have in non-historic new construction in a historic district. Several commissioners said they opposed providing any support for incentives that might be offered to demolish any building in a historic district in order to build something new. Wolf also suggested any new building should be sympathetic to the historic district's existing architecture to receive any property tax abatement. She also questioned whether any abatement should even be offered for new construction within a historic district.

Reischauer said the new construction proposal might offer an opportunity for the city to implement a two-tier abatement policy. One tier would provide a schedule for new construction, while the second tier would offer an abatement policy that would offer incentives that favored the preservation of the existing architecture.

Reischauer asked the commission members to continue reviewing the proposed abatement programs and provide Rudisill with any comments.

The commission then discussed the next comprehensive planning meeting to be held August 14 at the Zion Lutheran Church. The meeting will focus on development proposals for the River Center Planning District. Reischauer and Pettit both indicated they planned to attend.

The next discussion issue was the commission membership.

Rudisill reported that Ramiro Vazquez had submitted his formal resignation. Rudisill said there were no applications to fill the current two vacancies on the commission.

Reischauer directed Rudisill to contact Iowa State CLG Coordinator Paula Mohr to determine if the commission membership could be reduced.

The commission next discussed issues related to historic districts and property. Rudisill said Kent Sissel had contacted him earlier to report on the project's status. Sissel had reported some reservations about continuing with the project because of family issues, but was continuing to talk to state, federal and local supporters. Sissel had not reported any new completed work.

The signage of historic districts was then discussed.

Reischauer said she would send a thank-you to HNI for its contribution towards the signs. Rudisill said he would provide Reischauer with an MHPC letterhead.

The commission then discussed its failed Historic Resources Development Program grant application to fund four reconnaissance surveys in the community. Reischauer said the commission needed to discuss its options and request the continued support from its funders: Carver Charitable Trust, Community Foundation of Greater Muscatine and Friends of Muscatine Historic Preservation.

Reischauer said she favored asking the funders to support formal reconnaissance surveys of Fair Oaks and Colver Street, since they both were restricted developments that were completed about the same time. If all the funding support is not reauthorized, the commission will need to determine the next direction, most likely to completing a reconnaissance survey of just Fair Oaks.

Reischauer then moved to seek approval from the funders to support a reconnaissance survey of Fair Oaks and Colver Street; and if the funders decline, to seek support for just a Fair Oaks reconnaissance survey; Schmidt seconded; motion passed, all ayes.

Reports were then presented.

Reischauer said Muscatine County might be looking again to rid itself of the old sheriff's office. She said Jim Nepple had been working on a contract for tax credits on the building. She said the Friends were seeking to have any tax credit funds go to the Community Foundation of Greater Muscatine for future historic preservation of county buildings.

Pettit also reported control of the church at Sixth and Walnut had apparently been transferred to Tom Meeker.

The meeting then adjourned at approximately 6:30 p.m.

The next regular meeting of the commission is scheduled for Wednesday, August 15, 2012 at 5:15 p.m. in the Muscatine City Hall lower level conference room.

OFFICIAL MINUTES
MUSCATINE HISTORIC PRESERVATION COMMISSION
DECEMBER 4, 2012

The Muscatine Historic Preservation Commission (MHPC) met in regular session on Tuesday, December 4, 2012, at 5:15 p.m. in the city council chambers at Muscatine City Hall. Members present included Devin Pettit, Jane Reischauer, Julie Wolf and Jim Schmidt. Others present included Jim Rudisill. Following the roll, the commission reviewed the consent agenda, including the distributed agenda and the minutes of the regular July 18, 2012 meeting. Pettit moved to approve the minutes as submitted; Wolf seconded; motion passed, all ayes.

The commission's first business was election of officers for 2012-13. Pettit moved to elect Reischauer as chair; Wolf seconded; motion passed, all ayes. Reischauer moved to elect Pettit as vice-chair; Wolf seconded; motion passed, all ayes.

The commission then discussed Certified Local Government (CLG) activities.

The first discussion item was the pending property tax abatement program the city council is considering. Rudisill updated the commission on the latest plan that will be presented to the council by city staff.

It would provide a specific abatement of property taxes to owners of contributing properties located within recognized historic districts in addition to properties individually listed on the National Register of Historic Places (NRHP) around the community. A different schedule of abatement would be offered to non-contributing properties within the historic districts. The specific abatement amounts and schedules have not been determined.

The commission would continue to have a role in the abatement application process, but that responsibility has not yet been determined.

The next CLG discussion issue was an update on the city's comprehensive planning process. Rudisill said he did not have any new information on that and would drop it from the agenda until more specific information was available.

The commission next received an update on the recent modification of the Muscatine Historic Preservation Ordinance. Under the amendment approved by the city council earlier in the year, the commission membership was reduced from seven to five. Commission terms have also been staggered so one commission vacancy would occur each year. In order for the staggered terms to go into effect, the current terms of Reischauer and Pettit would be extended. The final change, although existing city policy already required this, would be that all commission members be residents of Muscatine.

The next issue discussed was the commission's meeting schedule.

Following discussion, Schmidt moved to hold commission meetings on the fourth Tuesday of each month at 5:15 p.m. in the lower level conference room of city hall; Wolf seconded; motion passed, all ayes.

The final CLG activity discussed was the 2012 Annual Report.

Rudisill advised the commission members the deadline for the report would be February 28, 2013. He requested each commission member provide information on any training they took in 2012 and also a list of any historic properties they noticed had undergone a substantial amount of alteration or repair in 2012.

The commission next discussed issues related to historic districts and property.

The first issue was the status of the Alexander Clark NRHP Update Nomination. Rudisill said he had not recently heard anything from Kent Sissel. The last contact was several months ago when Sissel said he was still discussing the nomination with state and federal officials. Rudisill said the Historic Resources Development Program (HRDP) grant funding the project would expire in May 2013. He said he was not optimistic the nomination would be completed by then; or even if it will ever be completed.

Rudisill said he would contact Sissel and request an update.

The next issue discussed was the status of the Fair Oaks/Colver Street Reconnaissance Survey Project. Consultant Rebecca McCarley has started some work, but is still finishing up a project in Burlington and would not be devoting more time to the Muscatine surveys until that was over.

In the meantime, she had inquired into the availability of volunteers to work on some property research she said would improve the final survey products. Pettit said he was busy and would be unable to help much. Schmidt said his wife might be available for typing; and he was also willing to help. Schmidt said he would contact McCarley.

Pettit also said he would contact former MHPC member JoAnn Carlson about volunteering.

The final historic property/district discussion focused on the possible loss of the Jefferson School building and the houses across the street the school is purchasing. The school cannot meet current standards and the cost of retrofitting the building would be high. Pettit said his concern was over the future of the houses on Mulberry the school district is acquiring, possibly as parking areas for any future development.

There were no reports presented.

The meeting then adjourned at approximately 6:15 p.m.

The next regular meeting of the commission is scheduled for Tuesday, January 22, 2013 at 5:15 p.m. in the Muscatine City Hall lower level conference room.

Re: Muscatine Power & Water's Water Flushing Schedule

Dear Mr. Hill:

Muscatine Power & Water will be conducting the spring flushing of the water distribution system between April 15, 2013 and May 3, 2013. For these three weeks, we will be flushing Monday through Friday between the hours of 7:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Signs will be placed in neighborhoods the day before flushing operations will begin in that area.

Periods of discolored water and low system pressures may be experienced throughout the City during this time, especially when the flushing crews are working in your area. This operation is necessary to remove sediment from the distribution system, in an ongoing effort to supply high quality water to the customers of Muscatine Power & Water.

Please feel free to contact me at (563)262-3361 with any questions you may have. We regret any inconvenience this may cause.

Sincerely,

Ahren Gross

Captain Mel Williams
Sioux City Police Department
6th & Douglas Streets
Sioux City, IA 51101

Dear Mel:

As you know, the Iowa Department of Transportation (DOT) has announced it will begin the formal rulemaking process to address the placement of fixed and mobile automated enforcement units on the primary road system. This rulemaking will be a very open process which will allow and encourage public input. The official rulemaking may take up to a full year to complete. The DOT has been reviewing our legal responsibilities regarding the primary highway system and believes we need to initiate some immediate changes in how the mobile speed camera units are currently being used on I-29.

Iowa law provides that the DOT and City of Sioux City exercise concurrent jurisdiction over the municipal extensions of primary roads within Sioux City. I.C. §306.4(4)(a). This means the DOT and City of Sioux City share the responsibility for these roads within the city limits, including the responsibility to keep these municipal extensions of primary roads within Sioux City free from obstructions. DOT has primary responsibility with respect to keeping such ROW areas free from obstructions, pursuant to I.C. Chapter 318 because the DOT is the "highway authority" responsible for removing all obstructions from the primary road ROWs under its jurisdiction. See, I.C. 306.4(1); I.C. 318.318.1(2); and I.C. 318.4.

As you know, in addition to Iowa Code Chapter 318, Iowa Code Chapter 321 also addresses the placement of obstructions or vehicles on the shoulders of the primary road system. All of these authorities demonstrate that the City simply cannot, by resolution or ordinance, place unmanned mobile enforcement units at will on the ROW or shoulders of the primary road system and in any manner it chooses. Rather, such placement must comply with existing state law - specifically Iowa Code Chapter 318; Iowa Code 321.366 and Iowa Code 321.348. Nowhere are these legal parameters more vitally important than on shoulders and rights-of-way (ROW) of Iowa's interstate highway system. The very purpose of that system is to eliminate congestion and promote a safe system that will support a high volume of vehicle traffic. Allowing unmanned mobile enforcement units to be placed in the shoulder or ROW of the interstate system interferes with this most basic purpose of that system.

Placing a mobile automated traffic enforcement unit on the shoulder under these circumstances typically leads passing motorists to abruptly reduce speed, change lanes or do both. Any one of these factors will disrupt traffic flow and could lead to sideswipe or other types of crashes. Placing the unit on the shoulder also creates a fixed object that, if hit by a passing motorists, could be a serious crash. In fact one of the units was hit by a passing vehicle on June 1, 2011.

The challenge for the DOT and the City in this situation is balancing DOT's power to regulate and maintain the safety of I-29 (under Iowa Code Chapters 307, 318 and 321) with the City's power to regulate and maintain safety through law enforcement activities. This will require cooperation between the DOT and the City, due to the concurrent jurisdiction they exercise over I-29. The City and the DOT must work together to develop a process that allows for placement of ATE units on I-29 in a manner which is consistent with, and not in conflict with, the above provisions of current state law.

At this time, the DOT cordially asks the City to remove the mobile automated enforcement units from I-29 until discussions can be held regarding appropriate placement of the units. Soon construction will officially begin this spring on I-29. At that time, we will work with the City and the contractors to find appropriate locations for the units.

Sincerely,

Tony G. Lazarowicz
District Engineer
