RE: Mortgage Release

Date: June 28, 2012

Suzanne Lee Ozsalar participated in the 2009 CDBG Housing Rehabilitation Program in 2010. She received the maximum $24,999 in funding assistance through a five-year forgivable loan. Under the terms of the program, she was required to sign a mortgage, which she did on August 13, 2010. Her project was completed on January 6, 2011.

She now wishes to refinance her house and in addition remove her former husband's name from the property's original mortgage. She is unable to complete the refinancing because her lending institution is calculating the city's mortgage into the formula for determining the amount of equity she has in the property. With that amount in the formula, she exceeds the threshold for the refinancing to occur.

Twenty percent (20%) of her loan was forgiven on January 6, 2012, but this has not been enough to allow the bank to move forward with the loan. Her biggest concern is the former husband has threatened legal action if she does not get his name off the mortgage. She indicated this issue was never addressed in their divorce settlement or was a major problem in the past, but is now apparently affecting her former husband's credit history.

The mortgage release would allow the bank to move forward with the loan; and Suzanne the opportunity to remove the former husband's name from the original mortgage. His name was never on the property deed and this action will not affect Suzanne's continued ownership of the property.

To safeguard the city's interest, a second mortgage has been signed by Suzanne and is attached. This mortgage will be recorded by the city, once the bank has completed its loan processing. The bank official handling the transaction for Suzanne has been updated on this. While the bank is processing Suzanne's refinancing, the mortgage will remain in city hall.

Suzanne has agreed to pay the cost the city will incur for releasing the original mortgage and recording the second mortgage. That check has already been deposited with the city's finance office.
