COMPETITIVE GOLF PLAY TO CONTINUE THIS DECEMBER

Municipal Golf Course to host indoor golf leagues, sponsor weekly clinics in Clubhouse

MUSCATINE, Iowa – The Muscatine Municipal Golf Course will be offering multiple options for competitive and non-competitive play this winter on its indoor TruGolf simulator. Starting in December, both an individual and two-person team leagues will be offered in the clubhouse.

Each competitive league will be eight weeks long with flexible playing times, and participants may play their weekly rounds according to their own schedule. Scores and weekly winners will be posted every Saturday night. Golfers will vie for the overall league winner position throughout the period of play. The entry fee is $50.00 per player.

Weekly clinics will be scheduled throughout the off season for those interested in working on their swing or fine tuning other parts of their game,

Both novice and experienced golfers will be able to get a leg up on the 2022 season during these weekly clinics. Different topics of the game will be covered each Saturday morning accompanied by off-season stretching to help reduce injury all year round. Players can enroll for $20.00 per clinic or register for all five weeks for $80.00.

Clinics are scheduled to begin January 8, 2022.

Simulator league players and clinic participants will enjoy the Clubhouse atmosphere where they can spend time with friends, take advantage of the snack bar and bar service, and peruse the Pro Shop to prepare for the 2022 golf season.

Golfers can register for league play, for the weekly clinics, or both by contacting the Muscatine Municipal Golf Course at 563-263-4735 or by emailing our PGA professional, Brian Kuddes, at bkuddes@muscataineiowa.gov.
